CUBS' ELEVENTH INNING FATAL TO MATHEWSON

hase. Becker's fly to Schulte brought Smodgrass in a id Murray's safe fly to short of brought Doyle in.

The Grants made a run in the fourth on singles by Movers, Matty and Doyle. Doyle is single, for the third our wien he tried to stretch the single for the third our wien he tried to stretch the single, falling a victim to Schulte's strowing stim. Here is a mainful narration of what transpired in the Cubs' half of the fourth. Sheckard was up first and walked. It leoked as if the last two Matty put up for him bisected the plate. Schulte shot a line fly to centre. Becker pranned over in front of the projectile and muffed it. Sheckard histing to third and Schulte to second, and nobody out. Tinker sent a sulphuric liner which flerzog jumped for and gobbled with one hand. He tried to double Schulte off second, but wasn't quite quick enough with his throw.

Zimmerman didn't waste a minute in schoosing a ball to his liking. He hammered it close to the left foul line and into the crowd for two bases mad brought in two cronies with the tearing thrust. Leach folled to Fletcher and the latter had a play on Zimmerman at third base, but threw low. The ball shot away from Herzog and Zimmerman ran home. Saier and Evers died on ground hits and the Giants were still a run alead.

on ground hits and the Giants were still a run ahead.

After Becker had doubled in the fifth Murray struck out and Merkle hit toward Zimmerman. It might have been a single or it might have been an out, but what did happen was that the ball struck Becker on the heel and disposed of him automatically.

In the seventh the Cubs tied the score on a single by Saier, a clout into the right field spectators by Evers and a scratch hit by Archer. Archer's hit was a puny poke, the ball rolling to Matty's right. Matty made a frantic grab at it, but missed and Saier drifted home. This left two on bases with one out, but Richie's fivto Meyers and Mathewson's fine stop of Sheckard's hard one shut off the Cubs with the score a fie.

Switt fickting put the Giants away in the seventh, Smodgrass was passet. Doyleslid a last grounder along the line to Saier.

one shut off the Cubs with the score a tie.

Swift fielding put the Giarls away in the seventh. Smodgrass was passed. Doylesdid a last grounder along the line to Salet. The latter person scooped it neatly, touched first and doubled Snodgrass at second with a pretty throw to Tinker.

Each battation scored in the ninth. Meyers singled and his understudy, Devore, took feecond on Fletcher's sacrifice. Mathewson gave Schulte a towering fly and Snodgrass's liner to left brought Devore in from second. It looked dark for the Cubs, but they saw light when Saler banged a two bagger to centre. The Cubs were retting pretty familiar with Mathewson's oftching. Evers seprificed and Archer again came to time with a base hit. He clubbed Saler home.

The tenth was one, two, three each way. With one out in the eleventh, Wilson singled. Vietcher gave the ball a hearty smack, but Sheckard ran close to the feet of the multitude and hauled it down. Mathewson forced Wilson. There was nothing appalling about the way the Cubs' eleventh began. Mathewpon three out leach, but with the appearace of the first of the troublemaking trio. Saler, Evers and Archer, the storm broke. Saler singled. Evers doubled and Archer peppered a liner to Centre. Saler romped in, it being the third time Archer batted him to the plate. The score:

Dressed in bloemers of bilue with bright blue and gold sazhes and flaring rosettes of golden hue in their hair, the four pretty brunetics attracted more attention than the seraggy looking male runners long before they toed the mark to will go out the record made by the Wannmaker girls last year. And how those girls from Namms ran! It was perfection of form in the truest sense of the outlet of the Southern League, and as a New York Giant. # REAL IRON MEN HAVE BEEN FEW IN BASEBALL

McGinnity a Pioncer in That Line: Then Come Walsh and Coombs.

NEWER CROP OF PLAYERS

Goodly Proportion of Recent Recruits Holding Their Own in Fast Company.

That peculiar niche in baseball affaire which is filled by what are known as from men is one that has had few occupants The iron men of note, real iron men, have been few and far between. The term is applied only to pitchers, and means those pitchers whose constitutions are sufficiently strong to permit them to do more work in the box than most twirlers could stand. Unusual capacity for work and exceptional pitching ability are attributes of the iron men of the mound. The first pitcher to whom the term was applied was Joe McGinnity, and he came into it not so much because of the frequency with which he pitched as his capacity for double headers. To this day he goes into the box often, and few pitchers have worn There are two other leading exponents of the iron man business. One is Ed Walsh of the White Sox, the most noted of the three.

and the other is Jack Coombs. Coombi isn't pitching as frequently as he did last year, but his capacity for work coupled with his skill as a boxman tided Connis Mack and the Athletics over many a rough spot and pulled out many a game in whi Coombs, like Walsh, could stend being hurled into the breach many a time beyond the ordinary, and then his experiness on the peak did the rest. Walsh probably has Australian cities being considered by the tour makers.

From Australia the idea is to come home by way of the Indian Ocean and Colombo, reaching Colombo on January 31. Aden, Port Said, Marseilles and Gibraltar are ports outlined to be touched on the homeward voyage, with possible tempting and brief digressions to Cairo, Rome, Paris and London. There is now no plan to return from Australia other than by the Red Sea, Suez and the Mediterranean. South America is no longer being considered.

The new crop of ball players in the major leagues, including those who broke in this year or the latter part of last year, is making a pretty respectable showing in last company, and there is a goodly crop of those who are likely to be fixtures, if not already that. Scouts and managers deplore the great lack of timber in the bushes, and with some of these newcomers it may be a case of taking them or nothing. Yet the proportion of those who are sticking and making their presence felt is fairly large.

the proportion of those who are sticking and making their presence felt is fairly large.

Among this number a prominent one is Dubuc, the Detroit pitcher, although he had been in the big leagues before and is no tender bud in baseball society. Another comeback who drifted back to the minors between sojourns in fast company is Georga McConnell. Likewise Hess. Among the newer crop of pitchers, dug up this year or late last year, are Baskette, sicen, Benz, Hamilton, Allison, two or three Browns. O'Brien, Bedient, Houck, Peters and Baumgartner in the American League; and Lavender, Tesreau, Cheney, Rixey, Scaten, Penton, Allen, Robinson, Willis and Yingling in the National.

Leading finds in other positions are Foster and Gandil of the Washingtons, both of whom were in big league company once before and returned to that company greatly improved. Other recent additions to the big league family are Cady of the Red Sox. Margert of the Athletics. Zinn of the Highlanders, Sterrett of the Highlanders, Shanks of Washington, Peckingaugh of Cleveland, Weaver of the White Sox, Kath of the White Sox, Kuhn of the Brooklyns, Smith of the Brooklyns, Phelan of the Reds, Northen of the Brooklyns, Moran of the Brooklyns and Magee of the Cardina's Most of them are making good.
